The new truck arrived late Thursday afternoon. We were able to get the insurance coverage on it this morning. One of our transportation mechanics is going to go to DMV tomorrow to register it and get the tags. I have been in touch with Salmon Signs to let them know we have possession of the vehicle finally. Once we get what we need from DMV I will schedule an appointment to take the truck to Salmon so they can measure it up for the lettering. They would not do anything prior to actually seeing the vehicle. As soon as I approve the copy of their work we can get them a PO and schedule the work. Hoping at this time that the lettering should be completed by next Friday the 21st.
