Mission Statement/Goals

Empowering Young Women is a club that would teach girls of all grades within the Highschool to learn how to better express themselves, learn to speak their voices, and learn life set skills they can apply to their own lives and contribute to the community. Goals that our club wants to achieve is having a group of girls grow together to create a close-knit bond, and 3 big seasonal projects in the Fall, Winter, and Spring.

Officers President Ciane Lopez, Vice President Schalen Taylor

Activities

Activities that EYW would participate in consists of team bonding and self esteem building exercises. Meetings would also be held for planning purposes for our 3 big projects. Our fall project would be a service dedicated to helping Breast Cancer Foundations. Our Winter Project would concern spreading women empowerment and representation within the Highschool. Finally, our Spring Project, with approval, would be going to Bowe, or Bullock School to give a presentation about the importance about Girls taking leadership roles in their communities, and working hard to become a leader.

Time frame (start/finish): September-June annually, starting 2021

Meeting Dates

Meeting Dates would be every other Thursday afterschool, and Friday at lunch of each month.

Where do you plan to meet? (school facilities) Meetings would take place in the Library afterschool, or the Health Room.

How will this club enrich our school/ community?

This club will enrich our school, as it will up female involvement in class, create a more positive environment for girls at the Highschool, and help women at Glassboro develop better self-esteems, because just taking a group of girls and teaching them their worth will reflect onto other girls in the school. It will stimulate positive behavior, as relieving stress from girls lives due to not being able to confide about their conflicts in a safe place with no judgement from other girls who may be experiencing the same thing will make these girls more positive about coming to school. For our community, Empowering Young Women will be able to give back, and teach other women in Glassboro how to appreciate themselves, and younger generations to become positive people who can one day break boundaries that have not yet been broken by women. The world is changing, and women leaders are pathing the way to teach all girls that anything is possible; Empowering Young Women as a new club at Glassboro Highschool can produce new leaders who will lead the path for new generations.
