

NEW JERSEY HALL OF FAME MOBILE MUSEUM FACT SHEET

Helping educators to instill pride and hope in New Jersey's students

As an educator, you are keenly focused on preparing young people to accomplish great things. The New Jersey Hall of Fame Mobile Museum presents a unique opportunity for teachers to capitalize on the achievements of our citizens and inspire students to reach for their own dreams. Students readily identify with others who not only share their geography, but also share similar experiences and challenges.

Created around the theme Progress Endures the mobile museum explores these crucial questions: What is the spark that ignites change on a grand scale? How is progress made? Most importantly, how does change become progress?

The New Jersey Hall of Fame Mobile Museum is a "field trip on wheels" with almost 1,000 square feet of exhibit space. This exhibit offers a cost effective alternative to tightening school budgets and is a very attractive opportunity for educators. In learning about New Jersey Hall of Fame heroes, students will better recognize the skills they need to reach their own goals and develop a stronger sense of hometown pride.

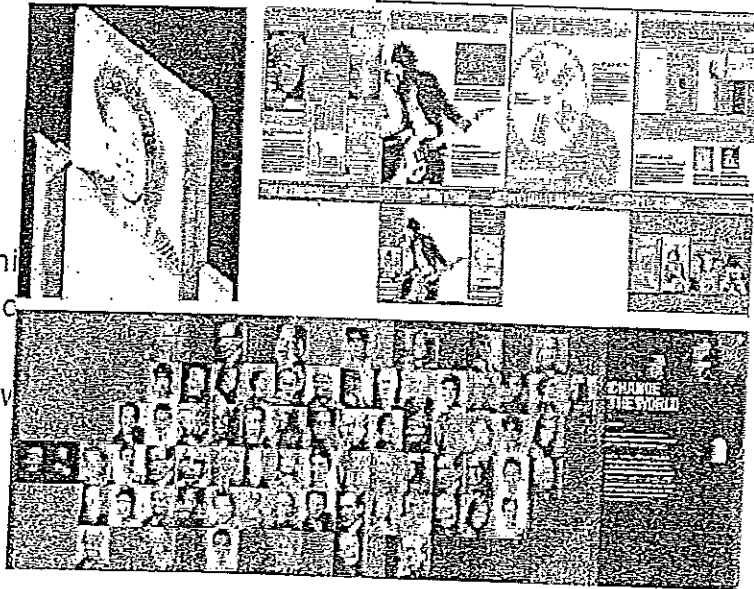

Help us celebrate the State of New Jersey and have an immeasurable impact on our students' and citizens' collective pride.

Designed by internationally renowned architect Michael Graves and museum consultants Ralph Appelbaum Associates, the exhibit is truly state-of-the-art with interactive computers, instructional opportunities and artifacts.

When on the road, the trailer is the standard 8.6 feet wide by 53 feet long. Once parked at an exhibit location, the trailer expands from both sides opening up to 23.4 feet wide by 36.5 feet long. The height is 13.5 feet.

Each exhibit object highlights important chapters in the evolution of social, economic, scientific, cultural, and political progress for which these iconic New Jersey figures are known.
