  - b. The employer’s response must treat complainants and respondents equitably by offering supportive measures as defined in 34 CFR 106.30 to a complainant, and by following a grievance process that complies with 34 CFR 106.45 before the imposition of any disciplinary sanctions or other actions that are not supportive measures as defined in 34 CFR 106.30, against a respondent.
  - c. The Title IX Coordinator must promptly contact the complainant to discuss the availability of supportive measures as defined in 34 CFR 106.30, consider the complainant's wishes with respect to supportive measures, inform the complainant of the availability of supportive measures with or without the filing of a formal complaint, and explain to the complainant the process for filing a formal complaint.

Rehabilitation Act of 1973, or the Americans with Disabilities Act.

(2) Administrative Leave

Nothing in 34 CFR 106 Subpart D precludes the employer from placing an employee on administrative leave during the pendency of a grievance process that complies with 34 CFR 106.45. This provision may not be construed to modify any rights under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 or the Americans with Disabilities Act.

c. The Superintendent or designee, after consultation with the Title IX Coordinator, will determine the sanctions imposed and remedies provided, if any.

(1) The imposition of sanctions or provisions of remedies will be revisited by the Title IX Coordinator following the appeal officer's decision, as appropriate.

d. The Title IX Coordinator must provide written notice to the parties simultaneously.

e. The employer must disclose to the complainant the sanctions imposed on the respondent that directly relate to the complainant when such disclosure is necessary to ensure equal access to the employer's education program or activity.

(1) Remedies and supportive measures that do not impact the respondent should not be disclosed in the written determination; rather the determination should simply state that remedies will be provided to the complainant.

f. It is important to note that conduct that does not meet the criteria under Title IX may violate other Federal or State laws or employer policies regarding employee misconduct or may be inappropriate and require an immediate response in the form of supportive measures and remedies to prevent its recurrence and address its effects.

7. Recordkeeping – 34 CFR 106.45(b)(10)

- a. The employer must maintain for a period of seven years records of:
  - (1) Each sexual harassment investigation including any determination regarding responsibility and any audio or audiovisual recording or transcript required under 34 CFR 106.45(b)(6)(i), any disciplinary sanctions imposed on the respondent, and any remedies provided to the complainant designed to restore or preserve equal access to the employer's education program or activity;
  - (2) Any appeal and the result therefrom;
  - (3) Any informal resolution and the result therefrom; and
  - (4) All materials used to train Title IX Coordinators, investigators, decision-makers, and any individual who facilitates an informal resolution process. The employer must make these training materials publicly available on its website, or if the employer does not maintain a website the employer must make these materials available upon request for inspection by members of the public.
- b. For each response required under 34 CFR 106.44, the employer must create, and maintain for a period of seven years, records of any actions, including any supportive measures, taken in response to a report or formal complaint of sexual harassment. In each instance, the employer must document the basis for its conclusion that its response was not deliberately indifferent, and document that it has taken measures designed to restore or preserve equal access to the employer's education program or activity. If the employer does not provide a complainant with supportive measures, then the employer must document the reasons why such a response was not clearly unreasonable in light of the known circumstances. The documentation of certain bases or measures does not limit the employer in the future from providing additional explanations or detailing additional measures taken.

8. Compliance

REGULATION GUIDE

(2) The employer also must ensure that investigators receive training on issues of relevance to create an investigative report that fairly summarizes relevant evidence, as set forth in 34 CFR 106.45 (b)(5)(vii). Any materials used to train Title IX Coordinators, investigators, decision-makers, and any individual who facilitates an informal resolution process, must not rely on sex stereotypes and must promote impartial investigations and adjudications of formal complaints of sexual harassment.
