

J. Harvey Rodgers School

Code of Conduct 2021-2022

J. Harvey Rodgers Code of Conduct

Philosophy & Intent

This procedural manual has been developed by Glassboro Schools for the purpose of delineating school rules, practices & consequences. It is meant to be a general guide for students, teachers, and administrators. Certain situations may warrant measures different from those prescribed herein. In such instances, administrative discretion will prevail.

Glassboro Schools would like to give your children the best education possible. Cooperation of staff, parents and students is essential in obtaining our goal. Structure and discipline are needed to ensure that all students are given the opportunity to learn in a safe, undisturbed environment. Consistent rules and consequences will help students learn that there are logical consequences for not following expectations. They are used to help students to solve their problems through character building interactions with our school faculty. Parental support is also critical in teaching appropriate school behavior; therefore, parent communication is expected from all staff to ensure that children receive the same message from both home and school.

It is our hope that this manual will assist parents, students, and teachers in the identification of unacceptable behaviors and provide a clear and consistent explanation of consequences such behavior will merit. As a listing, it is not intended to be all-inclusive. This manual's intent is to identify commonly recognized behaviors that are unacceptable in the educational setting. The school administration and/or Board of Education have the right to administer discipline for any other offense that is in violation of the law of school district policy or procedures, or in violation of acceptable standards of conduct for our students.

Schoolwide PBIS (Positive Behavioral Interventions Supports)

Glassboro Schools has established a Schoolwide Positive Behavioral Interventions Supports (PBIS) program, called the Bulldog Buddies Program. This research-based model has been proven to promote positive behavior and prevent bullying. Through the modeling of schoolwide expectations (rules), common vocabulary, student-centered rewards and data-driven decision-making, our children quickly learn what a positive learning environment "looks like." As our Bulldog Buddies motto states, every student at the Rodgers School will: Take care of yourself, your friends, and your school!

Teachers begin by teaching children that there are positive consequences for following expectations. This includes rewarding students with specific, positive praise statements, Bulldog Biscuits (tickets for our daily prize drawings) and various extrinsic rewards. The schoolwide expectations and "what they look like" in practice are explained as needed and are modeled several times throughout the year as part of our Schoolwide PBIS role-plays.

Student Rights & Responsibilities	Expectations for Student Behavior

Expectations for Parent Involvement

The Code of Conduct is meant to be a general guide for students, teachers, and administrators. Certain situations may warrant measures different from those prescribed herein. In such instances, administrative discretion will prevail. Parents are expected to:

- Review & discuss the Code of Conduct with their children.
- Understand and support the need for appropriate rules and regulations regarding safety and conduct
- Understand that all students are expected to adhere to the Code of Conduct and that interventions will reflect that student’s age, maturity level, and behavioral history/background.
- Participate in conferences as requested by teacher(s) and/or administration.

Teacher Statement of Responsibilities

Teachers have the responsibility to make every effort to treat each instance with fair and impartial judgment reflecting the age, maturity level and behavioral history/background of their students. Teachers have a responsibility to make sure that every student understands his/her obligation to the school community by instilling social responsibility and self-governance. Students must be given the necessary information to understand the need for rules and the application of them. In the enforcement of the policies, the teacher must make every effort to apply the Code of Conduct with consistency, reasonableness, and common sense. Once a student has been referred to the office, the administrator’s discretion will prevail. Rules of confidentiality must be followed in all circumstances. Teacher expectations and responsibilities include:

- Conferencing with parents and/or principal. It is essential that parents are made aware of the problem in a timely fashion and are asked for their help in eliminating the problem.
- Teachers understand that all students are expected to adhere to the Code of Conduct and that interventions will reflect that student’s age, maturity level, and behavioral history/background. Harsh or unusual punishment should be avoided.
- Teachers will provide opportunities for students to role-play schoolwide expectations to instill student social responsibility and self-governance.
- Teachers must notify administration of repeated violations of the Code of Conduct via ODR (Office Discipline Referral) forms.
- All staff should model positive behavior patterns that student can emulate including positive praise statements. Proper dress, professional traits (such as no gum/food in the classroom) and tone/inflection are also very important.

Tier-1 Offenses

Behaviors that impede orderly classroom procedures.

A student charged with behavior that is classified as a “Tier-1 Offense” should receive corrective strategies in the classroom and/or building and not be excluded from school.

Removal from school/suspension or placement in alternative setting

Procedure for Suspension from School

Pupils may be suspended by the building administration for any of the reason listed in the Code of Conduct. In case of suspension, the pupil will have an informal hearing with the building administration. This informal hearing shall include:

- Informing the pupil of the charges against him/her.
- Giving the pupil an opportunity to reply to the charges against him/her.

In most cases, suspension time begins at the end of the school day on the day that the suspension is issued. However, the administration has the right to suspend a pupil from school immediately when it is determined that waiting until the end of the school day will jeopardize the safety and well-being of other pupils. If this is the case and a parent/designated adult cannot be reached police and/or DCP&P contact may take place.

Parents will be notified of the suspension by telephone (if available in the home) and in writing. In cases that result in suspension from school a parent conference with the appropriate building administrator is required before the pupil may be permitted to return to regular classes.

Disciplinary Chain of Command

If the principal is out of the building and is needed for a disciplinary action, it is imperative that a second or third in command be designated. This person would be granted discretionary power to handle the situation until the administrator returns or is able to act.

1. Principal
2. District Administrator/Supervisor
3. Lead Teacher
4. Guidance Counselor
5. Designated Staff

Disciplining Student with Disabilities

For any student who misbehaves, a school should decide what action is most likely to correct the misconduct. In the case of a disabled student, the decision may need to consider the student's disability. For students whose disabilities have behavioral aspects, for example, preventative measures (such as behavior modification plans) should be considered and facilitated through the individualized education program (IEP). It is essential to work cooperatively to address concerns when signs of misconduct by students with disabilities first appear before drastic measures become necessary.

If these steps are not successful, the appropriate use of measures such as time-outs or restrictions in privileges should also be considered, so long as they are not inconsistent with a student's IEP.

No prior determination of whether the misconduct was a manifestation of the student's disability is required before any of the above measures can be implemented. This includes suspending a disabled student for up to two school days.

When a student is suspended or is to be suspended, the case manager should be notified. A copy of the suspension letter sent to parents/guardians should be sent to the Director of Special Services. This letter should contain the reason for the suspension and the number of days of the suspension.

If the misconduct is such that more measures would be called for, the case manager should review the student's current program/placement and consider whether a change in placement would be an appropriate measure to address the misconduct.

Where educators believe that more measures are called for, a disabled student may be removed from the school for more than ten days only if the following steps are taken: First, the case manager is informed. The case manager convenes a meeting with a group of persons knowledgeable about the student. The group could consist of the case manager, other members of the CST, principal & student's teacher. The parent must also be invited to the meeting. At the meeting, this group will determine whether the student's misconduct was a manifestation of his/her disability.

If the group determines that the misconduct was not a manifestation of the student's disability, the student may be expelled or suspended from school for more than ten days, provided applicable procedural safeguards have been followed and educational services continue during the period of disciplinary removal.

If the group determines that a student's misconduct was a manifestation of his/her disability, the student may not be expelled or suspended from school for more than ten school days. Educators can still address the misconduct through appropriate instructional and/or behavioral management strategies, students and teacher training initiatives (measures such as study carrels, time-outs or other restrictions in privilege, for example), so long as they are not inconsistent with the student's IEP, or (as a last resort) through change of placement procedures in accordance with IDEA. Moreover, the school district has the option of seeking a court order at any time to remove the student from school or to change the student's placement if it believes that maintaining the student in the current educational placement is substantially likely to cause injury.

COVID-19 ADDENDUM TO THE CODE OF CONDUCT

Refusal to comply - In the event of a pandemic, medical emergency, or if needed to ensure the safety of staff and students, the wearing of face masks can be required and enforced by the school. Students refusing to comply will face disciplinary action, including but not limited to, removal from school property and transportation (N.J.S.A. 18A:40-9). A student's third offense, whether it occurs in one day, or over several days, will result in the student being required to work virtually until a meeting is held with a parent/guardian to discuss the non-compliance and develop a course of action. The student will not be permitted to return until the principal and parent/guardian agree that the mask requirement of the school and district will be adhered to moving forward.

Face mask requirements - In order to ensure the safety & security of students, staff, visitors and the community, the district may implement a face mask requirement for an indefinite period of time. This requirement may be for indoors and possibly outdoors as well. An indoor requirement may include, but is not limited to, school buses, classrooms, hallways, bathrooms, and when entering/ exiting the building during dismissal. Additionally, students must adhere to social distancing guidelines and follow directions to ensure proper spacing is occurring in said areas.

The design of the mask must adhere to the school dress code and cannot have offensive or obscene graphics that would disrupt the school or learning environment. Masks found to be in violation will be handled according to the code of conduct

Face masks must fit snugly but comfortably against the side of the face, be secured with ties or ear loops, include multiple layers of fabric, and allow for breathing without restriction. Note – Homemade cloth face coverings and scarves are acceptable. Traditional paisley bandanas are not acceptable.
